THE DAILY

VOL. VI. RALEIGH, MONDAY, SEPT. 25, 1865. NO. 267.

THE NEWS.

—For latest [illegible] Fourth Page.

—Three newspaper thieves were sentenced to seventeen months' imprisonment each, in Philadelphia last week.

—Maj.-Gen. Augustus V. Kautz was married on Thursday in Cleveland, to a daughter of ex-Gov. Tod of Ohio.

—Albridge, the mulatto actor, is married to a white woman.

—Efforts are being made to raise the Merrimac, lying near Craney Island, Hampton Roads.

—Judge Bates, late Attorney General of the United States, is still lying dangerously ill at St. Louis, with but little hopes of recovery.

—Missouri furnished 104,758 soldiers to the war, one-third being from St. Louis.

"Mrs. Grundy," a literary paper, recently started in New York, is dead.

—The New Yorkers spent two million last year to go to the threatres and such.

—A colored man, Richard E. Greener, of Boston, has just entered the freshman class at Harvard College.

—F. H. Smith, of Birmingham, Conn., lately coughed up an ounce ball which went nearly through his head in the battle of Averysboro, N. C., and could not be previously extracted.

—The first cotton manufacturing company organized on the Pacific coast have a mill in San Francisco, with a paid up capital of $100,000, and they will begin operating in November with thirty-three looms, employing thirty operatives.

—At Elmira, N. Y., lately, an indignant husband applied to a justice of the peace for a warrant against a Baptist clergyman, whose offence was that he had baptized the complainant's wife without his knowledge.

—A London shopkeeper has devised a new way of advertising. He straps two sign boards on a dog's back and sends the animal out to walk about the city. Here is a hint for "Plantation Bitters." It would be necessary, however, to have a well-trained and well-behaved animal.

—What is called an "Open Church Association" has been organized in England, and has its headquarters at Liverpool. Its object is to render the pews of churches open to all comers, instead of having them appropriated by individuals.

—It having been determined to make Chattanooga a permanent military post, with forts, etc., stringent measures have been taken by the commandant to enforce discipline among officers and men. There are about $7,000,000 worth of military supplies stored there at present, and measures are being taken to secure this property against fire.

—A piece of petrified wood, full of nails, has been found in California. The query is, who drove the nails in the wood? The Indians who inhabit the country have no idea of working iron. Perhaps it is a piece of one of Solomon's ships, that he sent to the land of Ophir after gold.

—Lieut. Colonel A. C. Hamlin, medical inspector United States army, has been for a long time inspecting hospital property in Tennessee. An immense amount has been condemned and ordered to be sold. All female nurses have been discharged from the United States army general hospitals.

—A son of the late President Polk is employed with two blacks, the three at five dollars per day, in taking care of mules purchased by a Northern speculator at the army sales near Nashville.

—Since the close of the rebellion, the business of the United States Patent Office gradually increases. For the week ending September 12, one hundred and twenty-six patents were issued from the office, and one hundred and thirty-two will be issued for the week ending on the 19th instant.

—A man by the name of Lane, from Mathews county, Va., was arrested and brought to Fortress Monroe. He is one of Stonewall Jackson's Generals, and is charged with making Secesh speeches in his county, recently. One Smith, of the same county, has been arrested and taken to Richmond, charged with knocking down one of the Freedmen's Bureau superintendents.

—The government of the city of Alexandria, Va., was on the 20th transferred to the civil authorities, after four years of military reign.

—Bishop Whitehouse, of the Episcopal Diocese of Illinois, some months since prohibited Rev. J. W. Cracraft from officiating at Grace Church, Galesburgh, for the technical irregularity of not having presented the dimissory papers from the Diocese of Ohio, and for political preaching. The latter was, however, the real source of grievance to the Bishop, Bishop McIlvaine, who read the sermons, and all the loyal people who heard them, found nothing objectionable political in the discourses.—They in fact merely urged devotion and loyalty to the government as a duty of Christian citizens.—Bishop Whitehouse has now put the climax on his conduct by expelling Grace Church from his diocese, having forced a vote through the Illinois Convention, when only a part of the members were present. His action will be made the subject of an appeal to the General Convention of the Episcopal Church, which is soon to meet at Philadelphia.

The New Haven (Conn.) Palladium, which for thirty years has used steam as a motive power for its press, now uses a turbine wheel about the circumference of a straw-brim, driven by a stream of water only an inch in diameter!

—Harriet Prescott, the authoress, is described as a tall, slender, little figure, of apparently thirty odd summers, plainly, yet tastefully dressed, with eyes full of expression, yet without beauty of features, and with quiet, every-day manner, looking as unlike a dreamer of passionate and romantic fiction as you can imagine.

Business in Raleigh—A First Class Establishment.—Raleigh, one of the fairest cities of the sunny South, has derived from the close of the war an impetus to its commercial prospects which bids fair to rival the richest anticipations of her most sanguine sons. This is evidenced in the rapid duplication of her business houses; the opening of new branches of trade; the origination of new enterprises; the location in our midst of strangers; and the large increase of capital as the basis of all such elements of renewed and added material life.

The latest evidence of liberal enterprise we have noted is the case of Mr. J. Kinsey, who, with paint, brush and mechanical skill, has so brightened up his place of business, at the intersection of Fayetteville street with Market place, as to give it something of a palacial appearance. But he has not been satisfied with external ornamentation. It is a thorough and careful inspection of his stock of superb goods and the extent of the outlay of capital which has particularly impressed our minds.

His advertisement, to be found in the proper department of the "Progress," will afford a bird's-eye view of the variety and quality of his stock, but it is necessary to inspect them personally if you would realize in full the beauty and freshness of the goods. There we find American and foreign prints from the most famous mills of a dozen countries; ladies' dress goods of every shade and hue; among them poplins, delaines, plaids, ginghams, ect., etc.; brilliants and merinos; and we might almost say everything else recognised as elegant in the fashionable or necessary in the domestic world. The selection of nubias, hats, hoods, scarfs and the more ornamental articles of the toilet surpasses anything we have seen in any other North Carolina city—they remind us more of the grandeurs of dry goodery in New York than the displays of small cities.

While this is true of the supplies for ladies, the wants of gentlemen have not been neglected. The stock of Ready-made Clothing, boots, shoes, hats, caps and the like is not so large as we have seen, but in make, quality, style and cheapness is ample for the demands of town and country. This will be realized by those who may visit the store and investigate for themselves. Besides, there is a choice exhibition of groceries, hardware, &c. &c., both heavy and light.

This is not a puff, or exaggeration; indeed, it is not even a full exhibit of facts; but it sufficiently reflects that Newbern and Wilmington have need to practice great enterprise and energy, or else Raleigh will outstrip them in the matter of merchandize and general trade. Let them look to their honors.

Counterfeit Notes.—All the postal and fractional currency, both that printed in New York and that printed in the Treasury, except the very last issues printed at the Treasury, have been counterfeited.

Nearly all the denominations of the so-called "greenback" or "legal tender" notes printed in New York, have been counterfeited or altered to higher denominations, viz:

Ones—both counterfeited and altered to Tens.

Twoes—altered to Fifties.

Twenties—counterfeited.

Fifties—counterfeited.

One hundreds—counterfeited.

None of the notes (except fractional) which have been printed in the Treasury, have been counterfeited. The five, six, seven-and-three-tenths per cent notes compound interest, notes, &c., have all so far escaped imitation by the counterfeiters. It is only those printed in New York that have been successfully imitated. The currency of the national banks has not yet been counterfeited, notwithstanding the reports to that effect. These notes were designated at the Treasury Department, and executed in New York. When they are executed according to the original design it is to believed they, like the five, six and seven and three-tenths per cent. notes, will defy the counterfeiter's skill.

Another Outrage.—We learn that on Saturday night last a party of negroes visited the house of Mr. Caswell Powell about five miles from this city, and robbed him of one barrel of brandy, watch chain, [illegible] of jewelry, besides beating him nearly to death.

Embarrassing Mistake.—Two ladies of Raleigh were, yesterday, in Fayetteville [illegible] last Saturday, when they discovered a fashion equipage passing them in a carriage. Anxious to attract her attention, they made various demonstrations, and finally began to kiss their hands to her in a very loving and ecstatic manner. The John driving the carriage, saw the operation and thought they were intended for him. He hesitated until the next kissing was renewed, and then, no longer doubtful, returned it with a will, to the great merriment of spectators, but to the evident chagrin and disgust of the ladies in question.

Sons of Malta.—Rumor hath it that this order has been revived and that a lodge is soon to be opened here under charter from the national council. We presume their old object—obtaining possession of the island of Cuba—is the basis principle, with charity as secondary. A lady from the North, who knows something of their mysteries, suggests that about the time the Sons get the control of Cuba, the Daughters confidently expect to subjugate the Isle of Man.

A Lucky Place.—It would appear, if we could believe in incantations and the like, that there is luck in the atmosphere of Raleigh. Gen. Cox, once serving in this city, has been nominated for governor of Ohio and will no doubt be elected. We now learn that Gen. Harrison C. Hobart, the first federal commander of infantry who entered this city, has received nomination for the gubernatorial office of Wisconsin. There is luck in the city of oaks.

The State Convention.—From our exchanges and other sources we gather that the following gentlemen have been returned to the State Convention:

Wake—W. H. Hodge, W. H. Harrison, B. F. Moore.

Rowan—Nat. Boyden, Dr. G. W. Jones.

Forsyth—Leah and Starbuck.

Mecklenburg—Alexander and Melver.

Lincoln—W. P. Bynum.

Gaston—Dr. William Sloan.

New Hanover—William A. Wright—are doubtful.

Guilford—Caldwell and Dick.

Gone and Going.—The 5th U. S. colored troops passed through this place Saturday, en route for their homes in Ohio, having been mustered out a few days since.

The 1st, 6th and 27th are to be mustered out very soon.

All these regiments have been serving on the sea-coast of the State.

Explanation.—We invite attention this morning to the poem "Forsaken." It is from the pen of our friend, Saxey Ryan, who is a clever fellow.

By-the-by, we understand that our remarks the other day have been interpreted to apply to him. He was the adjutant of the 13th Indiana, but R is not a man like we described. He is welcome to our columns always.

An Outraged Wife.

The Richmond Bulletin relates the following:

In a certain locality on 7th street lives a widow with two fascinating daughters, whose charms had won a married gentleman of our city from the allegiance due to the wife of his bosom only. Learning how matters stood, the lady visited these charming demoiselles and vowed vengeance dire if they ever again presumed to lead her lord astray.

On Saturday night, her suspicions being again aroused, the wife called a carriage and drove to the above abode of the sirens, when lo and behold there sat her recreant liege, with a male companion, the two sirens and the widow enjoying a cosy chat in the porch. Before, however, she could descend from the carriage the scene changed and a drop curtain, in the shape of a pannelled door, fell on the drama.

The outraged wife was not disposed, however, "to give it up so," and demanded admittance, threatening to break in, in case of refusal, and the refusal being given she kept her word, broke in, entered behind the scenes and called for her husband, but called in vain, that personage having slipped out by a rear entrance and taken up a position on the street, whence he could watch the progress of events. The daughters were next demanded, but the mother informed her that they were not visible, whereupon, with the remark that she would serve her purpose as well, the wife pitched into ma mere and made ribbons and laces, blood, hair and [illegible] fly. The contest was animated, but rag[illegible] the wife with unwonted strength (furor m[illegible] arma) and she was the victor.

At this juncture, how[illegible] posed, and handled the w[illegible] much for the husband [illegible] woman to woman and [illegible] and proceeded to admi[illegible] tisement upon the assail[illegible] satisfactorily accomplished [illegible] carriage, which stood waiting, and [illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

STRANGE BUT TRUE.

'Twas late last night that I was sitting in my chamber, lonely, knitting,

Knitting on the same old stocking, I'd commenced before the war;

Knitting carefully, I was hoping—when methought I heard one stealing,

Stealing softly up the stairway, looking to my chamber door.

This I thought, and listened more.

Soon I heard a gentle knocking—hastily I dropped my stocking;

Dropped my knitting—the old stocking I commenced before the war.

Again, and louder, came the rapping—as tho' they thought that I was napping;

Me a napping? Knitting, napping? Me who never—"Ope the door."

This the voice said—"Ope the door!"

"'Tis Sally's voice"—says I—"'tis Sally, and I know she's got some news,

And I'm powerful glad she's come too, for I most did have the blues.

"Sally," says I, "Sally, how dye?" "What's the news? Do have a chair?"

"Glorious news, my Peggy darling—glorious news from Market Square."

"From Shepherd's Store in Market Square."

At Shepherd's Store, they've got new shoes—such high new, laced up, tasseled beauties.

Morocco, kid, and patent leather—Congress gaiters, toe-tipped booties.

Balmoral, Prunelle and Creole. Mens and women, boys and girls;

Such a sight it is to behold—they're the cheapest in the world.

The very cheapest in the world.

And Peggy, dear, they've got new hats—military and civilian.

All the style of Frenchy fashion—a la Emp'ror Maximillian.

And I told my husband, Johnny, "throw aside that rusty beaver."

"Go to Shepherd's—market square—get a hat you gay deceiver,

Get a hat, and burn your beaver."

Well, Peg—John went to market square—he's just got back—rigged up so gay,

A bran new suit from top to toe—and cheap as dirt, for ready pay:

And I advise you, Peggy darling—to give what cash you've got to spare,

To your dear Bobby in the morning—and send him straight to Market Square"

To Shepherd's Store, in Market Square.

"I'll do it, Sally dear"—says I—"I'll send Bob early in the morn,

I'll send him straight to Shepherd's Store—I will as sure as I am born,

Good-bye, dear Sally! Must you go? Yes—good-bye, Peggy—now take care,

Be sure that Bob finds the right place—'tis SHEPHERD'S STORE, at Market Square."

DAILY PROGRESS

RALEIGH, N. C.

MONDAY, SEPT. [illegible], 1865

Withdrawn.

Mr. E. P. BROOKS is no longer connected with the editorial staff of the PROGRESS, having withdrawn to commence an enterprise of his own. Our readers and the public may be assured, however, that we shall command the services of such talent in the various departments of the paper as to continue it a first class journal and give them a live newspaper.

Pardons.

Many of the most loyal men of the State have to apply for and obtain special pardons before they can exercise the right of citizenship or pursue a legitimate business, and as the process of petition, recommendation and the final granting of the pardon is slow and tedious, and as moreover the loyal men of the country are suffering more than the disaffected, on account of these delays, we hope the President will issue, at an early day, a proclamation of pardon and amnesty to all men in the Southern States save such as are held to be tried for treason. Such a course, we believe, would be appreciated by our people, and such an exhibition of magnanimity would go further to restore harmony and good feeling, and to create a genuine loyalty throughout the South, than anything that could be done. Pardon them all, and if any prove ungrateful or are guilty of acts of treason afterwards, arrest, try and punish them.

Notwithstanding all the expense and trouble attending the registration of voters in North Carolina, we have yet to hear of the first instance in which a citizen was denied a certificate to vote upon, provided he did not fall under the fourteen exemptions. So the whole work could have been done quicker and as well by a proclamation declaring that every citizen who was not affected by the fourteen exemptions should be allowed to vote. We are not referring to this matter to censure the Governor for anything he has done or omitted to do, but to express the opinion that as the people must be trusted, sooner or later, the sooner the better. Let those who rule show them that they can confide in them, and then if they refuse to perform all the duties of citizens, punish them for their transgressions.

A proclamation granting universal pardon will relieve many good Union men and save them the trouble and expense of trips to Washington, to their State capitols, lawyers fees, &c. We would not make these suggestions if we did not conscientiously believe that the course we indicate would result to the honor and glory of the State and country. Many of our people accepted the existing condition of things, at first, with much reluctance, and some few are, yet very bitter on account of their losses of property in slaves, but the good sense and patriotism of the masses has triumphed over disaffection and treason, and now if a man entertains feelings hostile to the government, the atmosphere that surrounds him is so loyal and pure that he dare not utter them. The intense loyalty of the many shames the few into silence.

We have nothing to expect or hope from the secessionists, or those who have been secessionists, and hence only take this position in favor of a general pardon, because we believe that such a course would greatly assist the President's plan of a speedy restoration of the Union.

Gone in the Spring Time.

All flesh is grass! Death falls heavily when it comes in the autumn or winter of life; but when it comes to us in the morning of existence, when there is so much to charm and entrance, it is all the more terrible.

Our readers will remember the Daily Record, a sickly little creature that made its appearance but a few months ago; they will remember too how its editors and correspondents abused, blackguarded and villified the Progress and its editor, but alas! alas! notwithstanding its pious paternity and religious associations, the little prattler has fallen—gone in the spring time—and those who knew it will know it no more forever. It breathed its last on Saturday, and we have one secession paper less in North Carolina. Its last issue gives its own obituary, thus:

"With this issue the publication of the Record will cease. The measure of public favor accorded to it has exceeded our expectations. Our labors have been pleasant in the main, and, we trust, not without some degree of usefulness. But we leave them now to return to enterprises in which we were engaged at the close of the war and which were temporarily abandoned only because the condition of the country rendered it necessary."

The New York Day Book, copperhead, advises its democratic friends to patronise the colleges of Virginia and give the abolition schools of New England the go-by. This is the doctrine that caused secession and the war, and should be spurned and resisted by all true patriots. Slavery is gone, and let all sectional bitterness and animosities go with it, for we can have no peace so long as the masses are swayed by these agitators. The Virginia schools may be very good, and we shall be glad to know that they are well supported, but we had hoped that the day had passed when sectional prejudices were to be appealed to in favor of institutions of learning or other enterprises. Let us have a common country and a common education.

—The new hotel in St. Louis cost a million and a quarter.

[illegible] at the cabin, and solitary upon [illegible] question. But Mr. Webster, who often [illegible] occasions great by his wonderful genius, was not at a loss for entertainment. Adapting himself to the peculiar religious inclinations of his host, while they partook of their frugal [illegible], he read and repeated from memory a multitude of the psalms and hymns with which much reading had made him familiar. Hour after hour the great statesman passed the floor of that cabin kitchen, repeating with his magnificent voice the inspired Psalms of David and Watts' soothing hymns, with only Branch Pierce and his wife for listeners. No church or cathedral ever resounded to grander, or sweeter music than that which Daniel Webster that day filled the cabin of the hunter of the Plymouth woods; and no audience ever listened to his own triumphant eloquence with such delight as its humble tenants listened to the familiar psalms, which for them, received new inspiration as they rolled from his marvelous lips.—Worcester Spy.

—R. M. T. Hunter, after remaining in Washington about a week, and having several interviews with leading men, including Secretary Seward, has gone home.

—There happened some time since, at Gaylesville, Ala., a collision between the Union troops and a Sheriff's possee, who claimed to act under authority of Gov. Parsons. The troops were hunting for cattle stolen from the United States; the posse resisted; one soldier was killed; nineteen of the Sheriff's men were captured. The whole affair is to be investigated by Gen. Thomas and Gov. Parsons.

Mr. Thomas T. Eckert, Acting Secretary of War, has assented to the transmission over the Military Telograph wires, by agents of the Associated Press, of daily reports not to exceed one hundred words to and from Augusta and Mobile. The agents will be held personally responsible for the character of the reports they transmit.

—An Amsterdam officer visited West Troy, New York, last week to arrest a canaller. As he was known to be a good swimmer precautions were taken to prevent his escape by water. The boat laid at a dock near the canal, and while a C. P. started the game the Armsterdam officer waited for his man on the opposite side of the canal. The boatman, as soon as he saw the C. P., jumped in the canal, having first divested himself of his boots. As he landed the Amsterdam officer seized him, but the prisoner soon turned him over and took to his legs, closely pursued. Finally he succeeded in relieving himself of his pants, and, in a nude condition, succeeded in making good his escape.

—Joseph Bonaparte, Prince of Musignano, died at Rome on the 5th of September. He was the son of Chas. Lucian Bonaparte, Prince of Canino and Musignano, and of a daughter to Joseph Bonaparte, Ex-King of Spain. He was for many years a resident of this country, and known as a learned writer upod American ornithology. Here he published in the Journal of Natural Sciences, of this city, a series of articles entitled "Observations on the Nomenclature of Wilson's Ornithology," a work frequently quoted and held as authority. He wrote "A Synopsis of the Birds of the United States" (originally printed in the "Annals of the Lyceum Natural History, of New York"), and a "Catalogue of Birds of the United States," published in the "Contributions of the Maclurian Lyceum" of this city. He was also an occasional writer for American magazines and scientific publications. His principal work is "Mongrafia della Fauna Italica," written and published in Rome after his return to Europe. Joseph Bonaparte was for some time a resident of this city, where he was intimately known by scientific men, and highly respected for his industry and learning.

—Sec. Seward has been officially informed that the Canadian authorities have paid over to the St. Albans bank, $89,512 75 in gold, and $30.010 in bank notes, being the treasure stolen by the St. Alban's raiders.

—It is understood, says a Washington correspondent, that Clay, Mitchel, Mallory, and possibly Stephens and Regan, will soon be released on parole.

—A contradiction of the report recently put afloat, evidently with the design of injuring the cause of the Mexican republic, that President Juarez designed leaving his country and seeking a refuge here, is contained in a letter from that distinguished ruler, dated at El Paso on the 17th of August, just received by a gentleman in New York City. Mr. Juarez says he has no idea of abandoning his country or his country's cause.—He had temporarily established the government at El Paso, but could soon take up his residence in one of the interior cities. He is determined to fulfil his duty of preserving the popular government of his native land, and does not despair of success.

THE MYSTERY.—Two darkies had bought a mess of pork in partnership; but Sam, having no place to put his portion, consented to intrust the whole to Julius's keeping. The next morning they met, when Sam said—

"Good mornin' Julius; anything happen strange or mysterious down in your vicinity lately?"

"Yaas, Sam, most strange thing happen at my house, yesterday night. All mystery, all mystery to me."

"Ah, Julius, what was dat?"

"Well, Sam, I tole you, now. Dis mornin' I went down into de cellar for to get a piece of hog for this darkey's breakfast, and I put my hand down into de brine and felt all round, but no pork, dere—all gone, couldn't tell what bowsat with it; so I turned up de barl, an' Sam, as true as preachin', the rats had cut a little slit free de bottom of de barl, and dragged the pork all out!

Sam was petrified with astonishment, but presently said—

"Why didn't the brine run out de same hole?"

"Ah, Sam, dat's de mystery—dat's de mystery!"

FORSAKEN.

BY "MAYER."

Every vow, alas is broken,
Every tie of friendship dear,
Every word of love we're spoken,
Have vanished like the fading year,
And still my heart is left to mourn,
Call them—call them, back again,
And see the sun of hope shine bright when,
Sorrows works would be all vain.

But farewell lady, those looks, how scornful,
Are truly undeserved by me,
And though my future, be all mournful,
Prayers, I'll offer up for thee,
Hoping thou art but mistaken,
Which time, sure time, alone will show
And to the truth, thy soul awaken—
To thy wrongs while here below.

Go ask the trees upon the mountain,
The leaves thereon, then ask the flowers,
Speak to the brooks, then ask the fountain,
Interrogate, times passing hours,
Speak to the silent stars above thee,
"Was he false, or was he true."
Their eloquence will tell "he loves thee!"
"And still he loves, and loves but you."

The Story of a Woman's Career—Forty Years Service as an Officer in the British Army.

An English paper says: "An incident is just now being discussed in military circles so extraordinary that were not its truth vouched for by official authority, the narration would certainly be deemed absolutely increditable. Our officers quartered at the Cape between fifteen and twenty years ago may remember a certain Docter Barry, attached to the medic l staff there, and enjoying a reputation for considerable skill in his profession, especially for firmness, decision, and rapidity in difficult operations. This gentlemen had entered the army in 1813, had passed, of course, through the grades of Assistant Surgeon and Surgeon in various regiments, and had served as such in various quarters of the globe. His professional acquirements had procured for him his promotion to the staff at the Cape. He was clever and agreeable, save for the drawback of a most quarrelsome temper and an inordinate addiction to argument, which perpetually brought the former peculiarity into play. He was excessively plain, of feeble proportions, and labored under the imperfection of a hideously squeaking voice. Any natural 'chaffing' with regard to these, however, especially roused his ire, but was at length discontinued on his 'calling out' a persevering offender and shooting him through the lungs.

About 1840 he became promoted to be Medical Inspector, and was transferred to Malta. There he was equally distinguished by his skill and by his vicious propensities, the latter becoming so inconveniently developed upon the slightest difference of opinion with him, that at last no notice was allowed to be taken of his fits of temper. He proceeded from Malta to Corfu, where he was quartered for many years, still conspicuous for the same peculiarities.—When our Government ceded the Ionian Islands to Greece, and our troops, of course, quitted the territory, Dr. Barry elected to leave the army and take up his residence for the rest of his days at Corfu. He there died about a month ago, and upon his death was discovered to be a woman. Very probably this discovery was elicited during the natural preparations for interment, but there seems to be an idea prevalent that either verbally during the last illness, or by the will writing, perused immediately after his, (for we must still use the 'masculine') death, he had begged to be buried without a post mortem examination of any sort.

This most likely, only aroused the curiosity of the two nurses who attended him, for it was to them, it appears, that the disclosure of this mystery is owing. Under the circumstances, the fact was deemed so important that medical testimony was called in to report upon and record its truth. By this investigation not only was the assertion placed beyond a doubt, but it was equally beyond a doubt brought to light that the individual in question had at one time or another been a mother! This is all that it is as yet known of this extraordinary story. The motives that occasioned and the time when commenced this singular deception are both shrouded in mystery. But thus it stands an indubitable fact, that a woman was forty years an officer in the British service, had fought one duel, and had fought many more, had pursued a legitimate medical education, had received a regular diploma, and had acquired almost a celebrity for skill as a surgical operator!"

Letter from Olonzo Ward to His Brother.

Shecargo, March 21, 1865.

To the Edytur of the Sunda Times,

Sir: 4 years ago, while in Indianopoles, Injyana, I wrote to Mr. Prentiss, of the Losevill Jurnel, regarding the whereabouts of my brother Artymis Ward, whoom I have not herd since he was a boi.

"And we romed the fields together,"

Supe as a Makeral in Kashmeer Sox. There was four of us brothers, all bois. Thee follering is a catalogg of our family. Our parents, of whom there was 2, konsisted of our father and mother, namely, Sanner and Erysipelas Ward. The latter (my mother,) was given heavily to plug tobacker, of which she chawed incessantly, though she died Bakon, done brown, was his best bolt. He was a man that could go long between drinks; the Kamil did not preponderate in him, and G. Hoven took him at the age of sicksty, and after 8 dais sickness. The following is applikable to his case:

"Oanum! Oakum'l" S. Spear.

After the old man's deth, our mother was left with the four bois aforsaid, whim, namely, to wit: Erysipelas, named after father; Artymis, the Long one; Rodney and myself; Olonzo, named after the celebrated Signo of pizzaronean celebrity.

My eldest borother, Ery, whut lath the wooll bisness, while Rodney went out to Origouns territory and imbarked in the Fur traid. Ery did purty well at wool, and busted, but Rodney is still in the Fur, making money.

Artymis at the tender aje of 11 was suddenly removed from hoam. In this connexion I would relate an old stocking belonging to my mother, containing fore dollers in silver and fifti2 cents in shinplasters disappeard about the same time. There was a party of Akrowbats, of double prokliivitys, in our neighborhood a few days previous, and by many it was supposed that Arty had inviggled

NEW SKIRT FOR 1865.
The Great Invention of the Age in
HOOP SKIRTS.
W. BRADLEY & BRO'S PATENT DUPLEX ELLIPTIC SPRING SKIRT.
THIS INVENTION CONSISTS OF DUPLEX (OR two) Elliptic Pure Rubber Steel Springs, invariably used in each Skirt, run together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable Spring ever used. They seldom break or buckle, but in all cases will instantly resume their perfect and beautiful shape more than twice as long as any Single Spring Skirt that was ever introduced to the public.
The well known flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any Lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be appreciated by every lady who has worn Corsets, Crinoline, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm-chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small piece as easily and conveniently as a Silk or Muslin Dress.
A Lady having Enjoyed the Pleasure, Comfort and Great Convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.
The Hoops are covered with 3 ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the Single yarn covering which is used on all Single Steel Hoop Skirts. The three bottom rods on every Skirt are also Double Steel, and twice as much covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps, &c., &c., which they are constantly subject to when in use.
All are made of the new and elegant Corded Tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical Skirt ever made.

LATEST NEWS.

ANOTHER BATTLE WITH THE INDIANS!

EXTRA-BILLY SMITH AND GIDEON J. PILLOW!

The Wirz Trial!

IMPORTANT FROM TEXAS!

THE ALABAMA CONVENTION.

Wisconsin Democratic Nominations.

Miscellaneous News.

Northern papers of the 22d inst., received by express, furnish the following items of interest:

BLOODY FIGHT WITH INDIANS.

FORT LARAMIE, Sept. 21.—Reports have been received from Gen. Connor that he attacked and defeated a large force of Arrapahoes near Big Horn, on the 28th ult., capturing 500 cattle and a large amount of plunder. We lost a number killed and wounded, among them several officers.

A HAPPY PARTY OF REBELS.

The agent of the associated press is facetious in his descriptions of prominent rebels. Under date of September 21, he telegraphs:

Extra Billy Smith, of Virginia, and Gideon J. Pillow, ex-rebel Generals, were among the visitors at the President's reception to-day. Both are seeking pardons. Pillow looked well, and highly pleased at the prospect of his being relieved from the difficulties in which his rebellious conduct has placed him. He was conspicuously attired in a suit of mixed jeans, in color approaching to Confederate gray, and looked as if the wearer was in a transition state between the rebel gray and the Union blue, with a lingering affection for the old favorite color. His appearance in this suit is so distinguishable that even those who did not know him would not fail to point him out as an ex-rebel officer.

THE WIRZ TRIAL—A WITNESS ARRESTED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The evidence for the United States in the Wirz trial is expected to close to-morrow or Saturday. The Government has shown a proper disposition to afford the prisoner a fair opportunity for his defence, having thus far subpœned about seventy witnesses, thirty of whom have already arrived in Washington. This, however, is not all that the prisoner, through his counsel, desires. He wants witnesses sought after and brought to this city, but this it appears cannot be done for the want of money, only about $200 in all having been subscribed to assist him. Several witnesses deemed important have left here, not having the means at hand to pay their ordinary expenses. Under these circumstances both the prisoner and his counsel seem despondent, while they attach no blame to the prosecution.

To-day one of the witnesses who was recalled by the government testified to acts of cruelty committed by James Duncan, a part of whose business was to distribute bread among the prisoners. Mr. Baker objected to the statement unless it was shown that Duncan was coupled with the cruelties charged against the prisoner at the bar. The court informed the counsellor that the commission was trying a conspiracy. The witness then testified that Duncan kicked and beat a man who stooped to pick up a piece of bread, and that the victim of this unmerciful treatment died several days afterward; and also that the same Duncan similarly served a poor half-witted fellow, when he came with his wagon on another occasion to give out bread. The witness was asked to point out Duncan in the court-room, which he did. A short time after these proceedings a guard approached Duncan, and informed him that he was under arrest by order of the court. This man was subpœned as a witness for the defense, and has appeared in the court for several days past.

FROM TEXAS.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—Gen. Sherid[an] turned from Texas. Governor Hamilton, of Texas directs that the present organization of districts and terms for holding courts continue. All negroes must be put on an equality with white men as respects punishment for crime, and when they are to be tried by indictment heretofore provided and found guilty, the judgment of the Court will be the same as if the defendant was a white person.

THE ALABAMA CONVENTION.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., September 20.—The chairman of the committee on the secession ordinance and the resolutions of the convention of 1861 reports as follows: All ordinances, resolutions, and proceedings of the convention of 1861, with so much of the constitution adopted in said convention as conflicts with the Constitution of the United States, are declared null and void.

Resolutions were offered instructing the committee on Federal relations to memorialize the President respecting the action of the convention, and decree: The people give a cordial support to his administration, and in view of the action of this convention and the loyalty of the people, the President be requested to proclaim a general amnesty to all persons not included in the proclamation of the 29th of May last. Referred to the committee on Federal relations.

The convention agreed to hold the State and Congressional election on the first Monday in November.

WISCONSIN DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

MADISON, WIS., September 21.—The Democratic State Convention met here to-day and made the following nominations: For Governor, Harris C. Hobart; Lieutenant Governor, D. W. Moxon; Attorney General, M. Montgomery; Secretary of State, L. B. Villas; Treasurer, J. A. Adams.

Resolutions adopted endorse President Johnson's policy of restoring the Union on the basis of the the Federal Constitution, and pledge him their unqualified support; opposing negro suffrage in the State of Wisconsin, or interference with it in other States; opposing the suspension of the writ of habeas corbus, and favoring a most rigid economy in the expenses of the Government, and a just equalization in the tax burden.

GENERAL NEWS.

Jeremiah Townsend, charged with embezzling $100,000 of the funds of the New Haven (Conn.) Bank and director in Hartford, was arraigned in the Superior Court at New Haven, on Tuesday, and pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to the State prison for seven years.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, writes on the 21st:

Secretary Seward is quite indisposed to-day, from an attack of the diarrhœa, so much so as to be unable to be in attendance at his office in the State Department.

Mrs. Patterson, daughter of the President, was taken suddenly ill last evening, and is represented to be very ill to-day. Several physicians are in attendance.

The throng at the White House to-day is unusually large; every hall and ante-room is crowded with visitors. The attachees are kept quite busy. The President granted pardon to Fayette McMullen, formerly member of Congress from Virginia, and others from the several Southern States. Governor Bramlette, of Kentucky, is among the visitors to the President.

The Episcopal Convention, held in Richmond, adjourned on the 21st, after a session of two days. The matter of reunion with the General Convention of the United States was referred to the next General Council.

The work on the bridge for the Petersburg railroad, over James River, has been commenced.—The contractor is satisfied that he will complete his task in January next.

Major General O. O. Howard, of the Freedmen's Bureau, arrived in Richmond on the 21st., and took lodgings at the Spotswood Hotel. He was serenaded by the fine band of the Fourth Massachusetts Cavalry.

The 44th Indiana Veteran Volunteers were arrested in Nashville last week by order of Major General Thomas, for having committed some depredations at Stevenson, Alabama, a few days before.

Syracuse, September 20.—A letter was received here to-day from General Slocum, stating that he had resigned his commission in the army, would immediately start for home, stopping a few days with General Sherman, and reach town in about fifteen days.

—It is said that Tennyson's new poem of Enoch Arden, has already realized for the author over eleven thousand pounds British. This shows the market value of fame. If any unknown author had written the work, there isn't a publisher on earth who would put his name on the title page. Milton got five pounds for Paradise Lost. But Tennyson is her Majesty's laureate, and there the royal sanction will secure popularity for anything whether tooth-powder, blacking, or sentimental doggeral.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU

AND

IMPROVED ROSE WASH

Will radically exterminate from the system Diseases arising from Habits of Dissipation, Indiscretion or Exposure, with no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure, completely superseding those nauseous and dangerous remedies, Copaiba and Mercury in all those diseases.

USE HELMBOLD'S

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

In all Diseases of these organs, whether existing in "Male" or "Female," from whatever cause originating, and no matter how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from Broken Down or Delicate Constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect his Bodily Health, Mental Powers, and Happiness.

All the above diseases require the aid of a diuretic.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU
Is the great Diuretic.

HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA,

For purifying the blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases, arising from an impure state of the blood and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulceration of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all scaly eruptions of the skin,

AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

Not a few of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. It cleanses and renovates the blood, instills the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expells the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought for, and now for the first time, the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show the sick that it has virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonfuls of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

☞THESE EXTRACTS HAVE BEEN ADMITTED TO USE IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY, and are also in very general use in all the State HOSPITALS and PUBLIC SANITARY INSTITUTES throughout the land, as well as in private practice, and are considered as invaluable remedies.
